Public consultation tracker August 2018

Notes:

Awaiting results – lead officers should send a post-consultation report to the communications and marketing team, providing an overview of responses, analysis and actions. This can be a basic summary or a full technical document (or both), depending on the complexity and potential impact of the consultation.

Awaiting We asked... – this is usually a three paragraph summary of what we asked, how people responded and subsequent council actions. Again this can contain more detailed information, if appropriate. This should be sent to the communications and marketing team so it can be posted online 'within a reasonable period of time' (dependent on factors such as complexity of consultation, analysis period, project board / executive sign-off, legal considerations, etc).

- If you require any advice or guidance, please contact the communications and marketing officer responsible for your consultation.

Private consultations and surveys: sections D & E have been added to provide an overview of the range of functions Citizen Space can accommodate (these sections do not required published feedback on the public-facing website).
